People who care

The Board of Education elected at large by the citizens of Manitowoc serves a three-year term. The money for the schools is appropriated by the City Council, but the Board determines how the money is spent. Superintendent Jones is appointed by the board. Mr. Vining Ihlenfeld has been president of the board since July, 1965.

Administration of Lincoln is headed by Principal Malinsky aided by two assistant principals. Mr. Zoch is in charge of student personnel. The position for supervision and curriculum was not filled this year.

Language in practice

A variety of methods was used by the language department to help the students speak, read, write, and especially understand the languages. Films, tapes, magazines, short-wave broadcasts, and native speakers aided teachers. The language lab was open for supplementary work.

Introductions in speech patterns, grammar, pronunciation, and vocabulary were included during first year languages. Second year pupils gained practice in writing and reading. Fluency in oral communication was emphasized in the third year. Fourth year gave students a chance to work independently in their own areas of interest.

The students chartered a bus to enable them to attend the annual Folk Fair in Milwaukee at reduced prices. Demonstration classes were held at the Mid-Cities Mall during National Education Week to teach students an unfamiliar language. Scholarships are available on a national basis for each language.

Dave Hendrick and Margie Hoida held lead parts in "This is Mexico," a Spanish Fles 12 production.

Self expression

The Lincoln High Art Department stressed creativity as a major factor this year. Art I classes included a general program to acquaint students with all phases of the subject. Art II classes became more involved in sketching, sculpture, graphics, textiles, and ceramics. Students in Art III and IV did advanced projects without repeating past accomplishments.

Numerous displays highlighted the works done in class. Bulletin boards in the art rooms and showcases across from the library allowed students to observe better examples. During National Education Week a display was set up in the Mid-Cities Mall.

Patricia Wollersheim completes her assigned woodcut before inking and printing it for Art II.

Variety in music

Lincoln's music department is made up of the band, the orchestra, and the chorus. These three are further divided.

The band is made up of the pep band, which plays at pep rallies, the red and the white bands, for athletic games, and a brass choir and clarinet choir. All are under the direction of Mr. Conrad Daellenbach.

Top orchestra students comprise the pit orchestra, organized to provide musical preludes at school productions. The members play with direction from Mr. Karl Miller.

Under the direction of Mr. William Jones, the chorus is divided into the advanced mixed chorus, the Lincoln Singers, and the girls' glee club.

Men minds machines

Industrial arts students concentrated on small projects, gaining a wide diversity of experiences. Drafting courses were broadened to inlude machine as well as architectural design. New equipment, including a drill press and V-8 engine, were added to the shops. Automotive mechanics, drafting, electronics, American industry, agriculture, metals, and woodworking courses gave students many opportunities to gain practical skills.

Simplification of computation

The Math Department offered students an expanded program for each particular math subject. Class curriculums ranged from general math, a consumer-type mathematics program, to Math IV, the study of applications. The structure of mathematical systems was emphasized in the Math III classes, while geometry students studied the structure of proofs. Adding machines and two computer trainers were available in the math office to students desiring their use.

Vocational skills, college preparation

Curriculum in the business education department included courses for all students. General subjects, such as business law and general business, dealt with everyday problems which all consumers need to be aware of. Vocational skills were taught in typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, office practice, and retail selling. Personal typing and notehand were geared to the college bound student.

Students in Mr. Harvatine's clerical office practice classes learned how to use various types of machines commonly found in business offices.

Kathy Gretz, one of several volunteers, helped in the business office.

Food for thought

Organizational changes in English classes allowed teachers to get to know fewer students better. Seniors now have one teacher for both literature and composition. Juniors cut from four teachers to two— one taking literature and drama, the other speech and composition. Sophomores have just one teacher for their entire semester of reading. Screen education became a project for some senior English classes.

Preparing for the future was the objective for the home economics department. A new course in family living doubled in enrollment for 1969-70. Boys, too, became involved in discussions of dating, marriage, and family goals.

Problems of a democracy

The social studies department aided students in their preparation for responsible citizenship. Social studies is directly concerned with helping youth understand and face the problems of today and tomorrow: international problems such as Vietnam, the cold war, or the bomb; and national problems of race, youth, or elections.

In order to face these problems tomorrow, the youth of today must have knowledge of the world's situation and its problems. Students must have the skills, abilities, attitudes, and values to understand and meet these problems. This is the social studies goal.

Comparative political systems are discussed by Barb Husar, Jay Musil, Mary Modra, and Tom Ellerman during their problems of democracy class.

Buckle up for safety

Driver's education helps students comply to state law by teaching them better and safer driving methods. Since the law has been passed requiring students to take driver's ed and behind the wheel training, all sophomores take this course for one quarter.

New machines in the driver's education department tests student's reflexes and instinctual driving habits. Movies are used to instruct students and to show them the results of breaking the laws of the road. All knowledge gained from driver's ed is put to use at the end of the course when students are given the state examination.

Participation competiton

Physical education is designed to improve skills in sports and to develop muscular coordination. Healthy attitudes toward competition and individual effort are encouraged. The physical education schedule has been divided into six six-week units of activity with the purpose of interesting and involving everyone.

Sophomores attended gym class daily, while juniors and seniors attended two and a half hours per week, rather than three as they did formerly. Class activities were as varied as swimming, ping pong, modern dance, and wrestling.

The techniques of survival swim don't help Sue Balte through the rest of the day.

Student participation in discovering concepts through experimentation was the method used for teaching biology, chemistry, physics, and science survey classes this year. Special staffs are needed to keep a school running smoothly.

Lincoln's reputation as a clean, well-run school is due to the efforts of our two custodial staffs.

Nutritious, well-balanced meals are prepared for Washington, Wilson, and Lincoln by the school's kitchen staff. A school dietician checks the menus for each week.

The office work is handled by the secretarial staff. Answering the telephone, running the finance office, and making out the absentee lists are among their duties.

Flambeau '69- the people who made it possible

Junior assistants trained for staff positions in the areas of editor, opening, sports, layout, and business manager.

Under his direction, the Advanced Mixed Chorus toured the elementary and junior high schools in autumn.

During Christmas time, the chorus performed its Yuletide concert for the Lincoln students and staff. The Mid-Winter concert in January provided the public with an opportunity to hear the chorus.

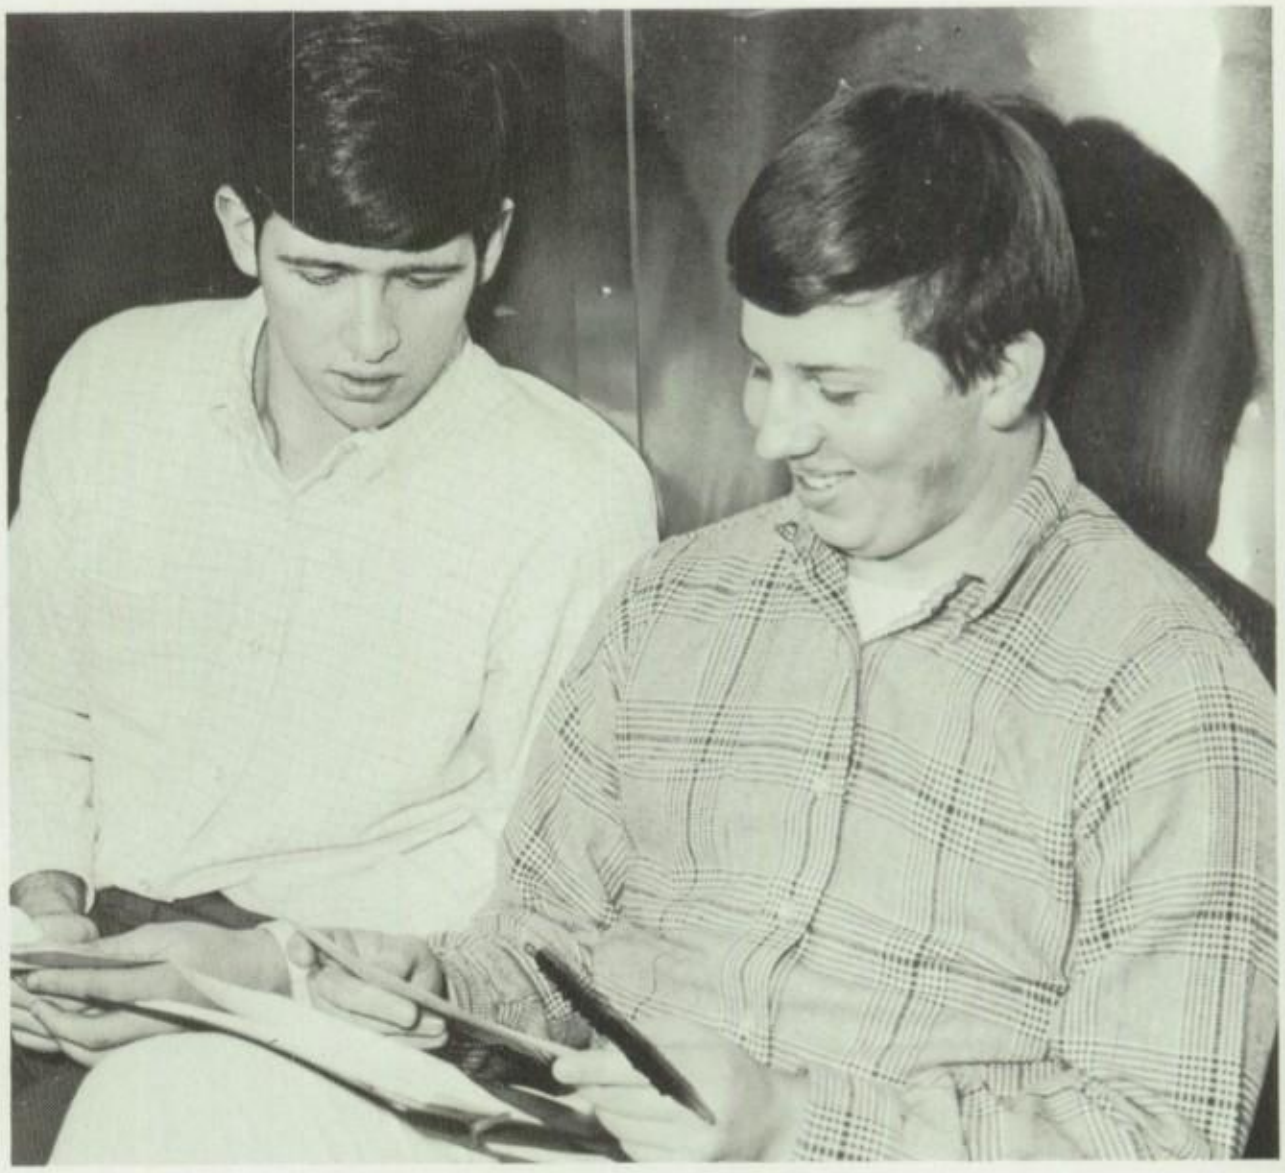
Announcements are made during fifth period by Council Vice-President Gary John.



Discussions and snacks highlighted student activity in the cafeteria Commons area.

Student Faculty Tea held in November gave council representatives and their homeroom teachers an opportunity to get better acquainted.

Students with a hand in Lincoln affairs

Student government at Lincoln consisted of sixty-two representatives, one from each homeroom. They met Tuesdays during activity period.

The Council's numerous duties consisted of selling activity tickets, arranging for locker clean-outs, organizing the Christmas hall decorations, and selling student directories. They also chose chairmen and committees to take charge of Homecoming festivities. A blues band, "The Inspirations," rather than an orchestra played for the dance.

Petitions circulated by the Council members helped in working against the school budget cut.

This year a new project for Student Council was the organization of a student commons area in the cafeteria.

Burning the midnight oil

National Honor Society promotes high scholastic standards among Lincoln students through recognition in the club.

The advisers, Miss Mary Chamberlain and Mr. Courtney Leonard, determined what students were qualified for membership. Initiation of 34 juniors and 14 seniors took place April 23 before the upper half of the classes in the auditorium.

To be eligible students must have a 3.5 average and rank in the upper five per cent of their class. Besides meeting scholastic standards, members were chosen on the basis of their character, attitude, citizenship, and leadership.

Senior Steve Riederer was Manty's number one runner for most of the season.

Cross country no. 1 in valley

The cross country team, under new head coach, Leonard Nikolai, took its first conference championship since 1929. Team success was attributed to team depth, with Steve Riederer, Doug Brefcyzinski, and Bill Beaupre doing an outstanding job all season. In addition to the FRVC title, the harriers took first place in the tough Oshkosh Invitational to highlight the season.

A strong nucleus for next year's team will be provided by returning lettermen Doug Brefcyzinski, Paul Garrow, Mike O'Connor, John Bull, and Bill Riederer.

Gymnasts have strong season

Lincoln High's gymnastic team finished the season with a 8-2 record in dual meet competition. The only team to beat the Ships was Preble, the eventual State Champion. The team came on strong during the middle of the season, but failed to do as well as expected in the State Tournament. Manty did send four boys to state, with Roger Peters and Mike Hendricks placing in their events.

Hopes for next year will be centered around junior returning lettermen Jan Hobbs, Chuck Martin, Kurt Kanzelberger, and Dave Olsen.

Runnerup in conference

Coach Richard Frailing's wrestling team finished the season with a 6-5-0 record in dual meet action. They took 2nd place in the Conference Meet, coming in behind powerful Green Bay Southwest. Co-captains Gene Welch and Gary Kaderabeck paced the team in the FRVC Meet, placing 1st and 2nd respectively.

Manty finished 2nd in regional action with Welch, Kaderabek, and Jim Steuer taking 1st places. Hopes for next year's squad depend on the performance of the 9 returning lettermen.

Ships rebuild successfully

This year's basketball team, under Coach Ed Fleener, came on strong in a rebuilding year following last year's State Championship. With only two returning lettermen, the Ships used the first half of the season to gain experience and the second half to defeat all but one of its FRVC foes. Manty finished in 2nd place with a 13-5 record. In tournament action the Ships advanced to the Sectional finals before being downed by Neenah.

Rocky Jiroch was the team's leading scorer and was voted unanimously to the All-Conference team. With only two letterwinners graduating, next year's team has the potential to become a conference power.

Swimming team gains experience

Due to the lack of returning lettermen, this was to be a rebuilding year for the Lincoln High swim team. Lack of depth was evidenced by poor showings in the larger meets, but the tankers did finish the season with a fine 4-3 dual meet record.

Under the direction of new head coach Larry Cutlan, many underclassmen quickly improved. Sophomores Jerry Jansky and Bob Zoch set school records in the individual medley and the 100 yard butterfly. Eight letterwinners will be returning next year for what could be a very promising season.

Changes mark BAC season

Many boys not involved in interscholastic sports were able to participate in Boys Athletic Club this year. All programs were carried on during the seventh hour activity period. The schedule was changed every six weeks to allow a change in sports every time. Adviser Ned Hodgson, along with assistants Bill Twichell, Frank Granitz, and John Farwell, were able to develop many new activities for a more balanced program.

Sports offered to boys this year included weight training, distance swimming, soccer, archery, touch football, basketball, volleyball, gymnastics, and water polo.

Even after Orientation Day, we felt strange this fall with three new floors to find our way around on and older students from whom we needed acceptance.

Homecoming brought us recognition, for we won the pep and enthusiasm awards at the Friday rally. Our school spirit carried through to Saturday.

We devoted nine weeks to driver education, required of all sophomores to prepare us for a license and emergency driving.

English II and biology were required. A semester of flying through paperbacks and another of applying rhetorical concepts increased our knowledge and our homework. Exploring the anatomy of frogs and freezing during biology lectures in the auditorium were among our learning experiences.

Couples entered "Love Is Sweet", the annual junior class Prom, on a revolving gingerbread merry-go-round to be dropped off in a land of cookies and candy. The evening of April 11 was the night the JFK building held a gingerbread house fenced in by candy canes, a park with a lolly-pop teeter totter and a ribbon candy slide, and a lolly-pop and cotton candy forest.

During the intermission King Dave Bennington crowned Queen Pam Brooks.

The faculty of Lincoln and the senior students received invitations from the junior class to attend Prom.

Creators, learners, performers . . .

We proved ourselves as the most successful class at this year's Homecoming, Oct. 12, by placing first in two of the four class competitions. We claimed first place for our junior float, "We'll Leave 'Em in Our Wake." The other first was awarded to us for our ability to yell the loudest in the cheering competition. Our pep skit, a barroom scene including cowboys, villains, and cancan dancers, captured a second place.

Although once postponed, Twirp was finally held on the night of Nov. 15. Decorations coordinated with the theme, "Sadie Hawkins Finds Li'l Abner." We elected Karen Olp to reign as Sadie Hawkins at the dance. This was the second time a Sadie Hawkins was chosen.

Homecoming

Lincoln students celebrated Homecoming the weekend of October 11 and 12. The football team for the first time was given the privilege of picking its representatives. The King and five boys were selected by the team and in turn each chose his own date.

Queen Bonnie Lauson and King Scott Deuchar together with the Court of Honor reigned over the Homecoming activities.

Upperclassmen displayed spirited talent by taking first place in skit competition at the Friday pep rally. The parade to Municipal Field exhibited the seniors second place float "Drive Rockets Loco That's Our Motive."

Although the team was defeated 0-9 by Neenah, our crowd cheered on. The dance "Valley of the Ships" was held in the old gym and music was provided by the Inspirations. Unlike the traditional band, they played blues which was a new aspect to a Lincoln High dance.

The audience roared when Randy Schramm was lowered on stage in the senior skit.

Students of today leaders of tomorrow

Term papers, our eighteenth birthday, and graduation were the highlights of our senior year.

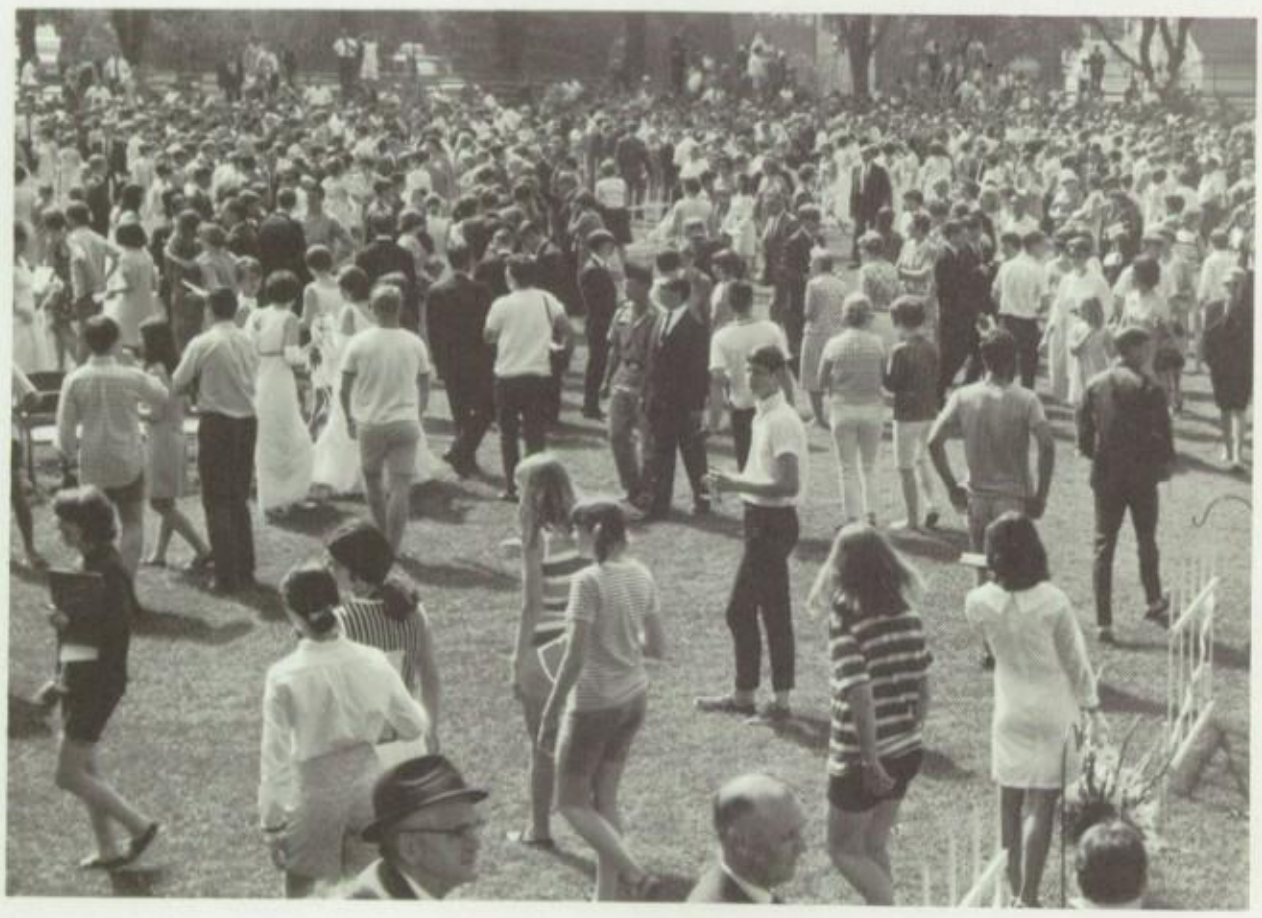
Topics of term papers ranged from modern day human heart transplants to sixteenth century music. By February 17 all the worries of our papers were behind us and we had a feeling of accomplishment.

We could hardly wait for our eighteenth birthday so we could join our friends at the Lodge and the Red Bird.

The traditional commencement ceremony of taps, formals, and the Alma Mater will be held in the bowl June 5. At graduation our thoughts returned to our Junior Prom, "Once Upon A Time", 1968 State Basketball Championship, and our first place Red — White Day decorations.

Although these memories will always be apart of the class of '69, we shall also remember the learning experiences provided for us at Lincoln.

Pastel gowns and dark suits, make a beautiful setting for Lincoln's commencement.



The confusion and tears of friends and relatives make graduation an exciting experience.
